PEPPER SWINGS at freshman Junior Assembly.

EXEMPTION FROM study halls allows seniors to study outside in nice weather and to leave the building during study hall.

Fall is Here

Man walks on the moon. Closer to peace. Vietnam War still in progress. Closer to war. Summer football practice starts, hockey camp ends. Closer to school . . . Fall comes.

AUTUMN LEAVES, a sign of the season.

JILL'S HAVE a difficult but successful season.

Classes start. Activities begin. Spirit is great.
Eyes on winning football season. Cross country runners consistent. Hockey is sure to be successful.
Band and Jillettes work together. Homecoming . . .
Kathy is queen.

JEFF REQUARTH and book carrier, Mark Erbaugh, leave class early to avoid the crowd between classes.

The class of 1970 opened a new decade for different ideas, exciting changes, and wonderful experiences. A man from Ohio walked on the face of the moon for the first time and returned to earth safely. The Dress Code was argued and discussed by the students, faculty, and people of the community until a decision was made liberalizing student dress. Students wore pants, shorts and any clothing that was not distracting to school classrooms.

The football team had the most victorious season in years; the basketball team didn't do as well as it had in previous years.

Under Steve Herbert, Student Council President, the student body began to have a say in the governing of the school. A student lounge was opened through the council's and faculty's help after much postponement both last year and this year.

The lottery system was adopted by the Draft board and the call was lowered considerably for the Vietnam War.

The Senior Prom was magnificent. All the preparations and hard work paid off when the transformation of the girls gym was viewed as a night in Camelot. Molly Hageman was queen for the prom as Kathy Barksdale had been for Homecoming.

Term papers consumed many hard hours of work at the library and at home. Senior exemption from study hall with a 2.5 average made it easier for the students to cope with the laborous research involved in the production of a research paper.

Beachcombers Ball was a farewell to the Seniors given by the Junior class. It became the end of six years of studying and weekend dances.

Graduation was wonderful, and sad, and culminated the years together as a class.

Beachcomber's Ball

The juniors were able to participate in many extracurricular and academic activities. The Fine Arts Society, under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Suter, attended many plays and musicals. Three juniors represented the class on the Acorn staff and five on the Oak Leaf staff. Seventeen juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society.

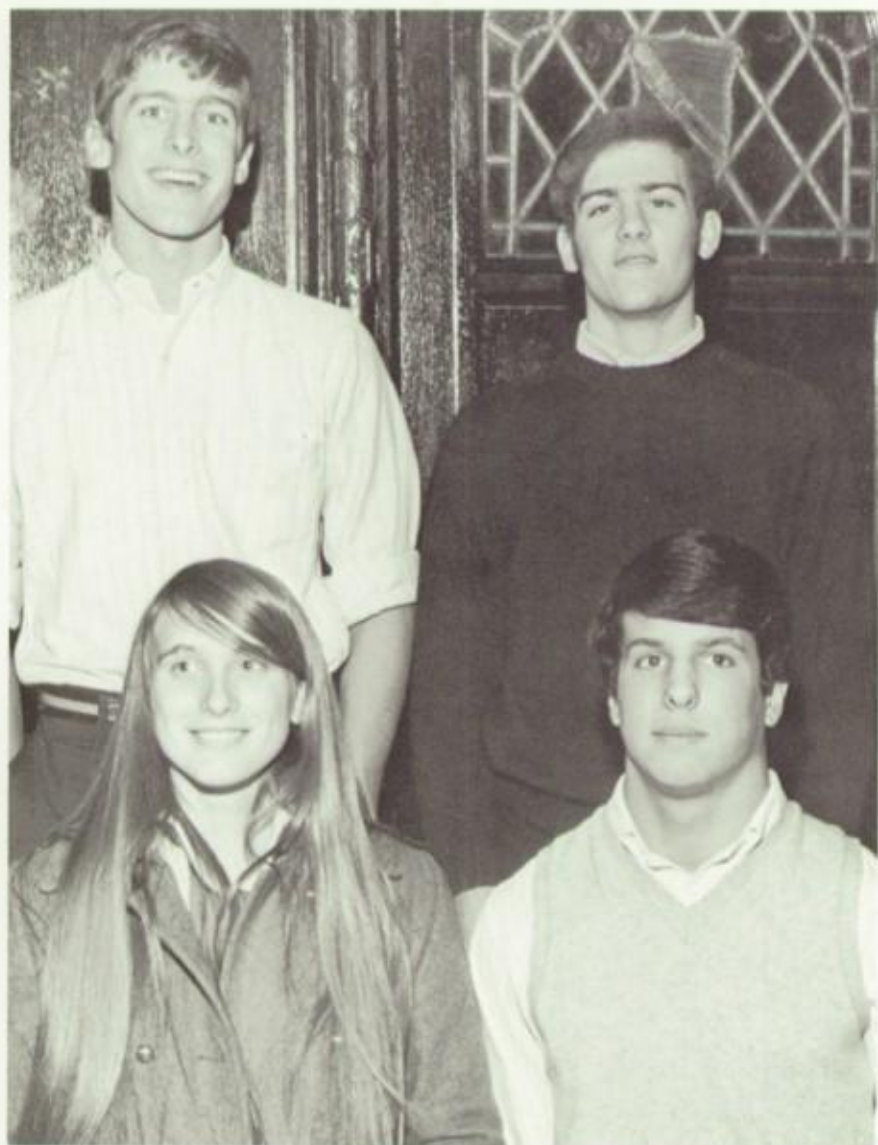

The junior boys participated in many varsity sports such as football, basketball, wrestling, baseball, track, and cross-country. Steve Walters made the All-League Team in football.

The juniors participated in varsity sports. The hockey, volleyball, basketball, and other spring sports' teams were successful with the aid of the junior girls. The captain of Oakwood's first drill team, the Jilletes, was Cathy Cooper.

This year the class thought Beachcomber's Ball was the finest one that Oakwood has ever seen.

The junior varsity cheerleaders were Rene Arnold, Katie Bates, Sheila Brown, Janet Ordeman, Jane Ryckman, Joan Sealy, and Tammy Williams. These girls did a great job in promoting spirit throughout the school.

CLASS OFFICERS: Dave Rudwall, secretary; Joan Sealy, treasurer; Lee Thomas, vice-president; Jim Hocker, president.

"Bourbon Street" Is A Success

This was the first year for the sophomore boys' to participate in varsity sports. Mark Wells aided the football team to enjoy a winning season, and he qualified for the All-League Team. The sophomore Jills, contributed much to girls' varsity sports with Polly Alexander playing varsity hockey and Diane Ridall playing varsity volleyball.

A Fine Arts Society advised by Mr. Ashton was innovated at the sophomore level. The class saw and heard cultural performances such as the Prague Symphony, "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," and many more.

Preston Crabill and Debbie Robinson were the co-chairmen for the sophomores' first prom, "Bourbon Street," and made it a smashing success. The sophomores showed a lot of spirit with the help of the reserve cheerleaders, Ellen Bayley, Jane Beck, Petah Coyne, Leslie Graef, Pam Gridley, Amy Hall, Kathy Hoyne, Janet Prather, Diane Ridall, Debbie Robinson, Ellen Sherriff, Robin Taylor, and Janice Thorn.

WITH MUCH enthusiasm, sophomores, Bill Lee, Janna Jervis, Betsy Connelly, and Sharon McCroskey, select class rings.

One hundred and forty-eight freshmen entered the senior high to further academic pursuits. They sponsored many freshmen-sophomore open houses on Saturday evenings. They participated in JCOWA, language clubs, girls' and boys' sports, and as reporters on the Oak Leaf. The year was highlighted by three junior assembly dances at Dayton and Moraine country clubs.

The freshmen cheerleaders were Carolyn Beyer, Elaine Boucher, Rosemary Bridgewater, Jenny Clark, Lesley Gorog, Martha Haddick, Becky Hanner, Lisa Herbert, Jenny Herron, Pam Karas, Sarah Longstreth, Cinda Slager, and Ann Wilson.

Junior High Experiences New Things

The eighth graders returned to Oakwood to make their second year even better than their first. The football team, led by Tom Jervis, finished with an undefeated season of six wins. The eighth grade cheerleaders—Heidi Albrecht, Joy Bush, Jo Conkel, Sarah Graef, Annie Kinlaw, Sheree Lagedrost, Sandy Lavengood, Teri Lawson, Janice McCants, Cathy Schmidt, Tish Sperry, Jan Tye, Susan Walters—added much pep and support for the football and basketball teams. The eighth grade girls did well in intramural sports. Wolff's Women won the championship for the junior high hockey intramurals, and Lawson's Ladybugs came in second.

THE EIGHTH graders enjoy their Home Economics class.

CLASS OFFICERS: Tom Jervis, president, 8; Jim Whalen, treasurer, 7; Chris Cowl, vice-president, 7; Ken Coleman, vice-president, 8; Teri Lawson, treasurer, 8; Connie Plattenburg, secretary, 7; and Scott McCune, president, 7. Not pictured—Jeff Frame, secretary, 8.

"The first step is the hardest." This quotation certainly applies to the seventh graders. This year was started with much confusion with the first year for changing classes and individual lockers. The boys did a good job in interscholastic sports. They were spurred on by Diane Button, Cindy Clark, Vandy Flemming, Jennifer Gorog, Barbie Granzow, Jane Gridley, Mollie McSherry, Cindy Porter, Jenny Robinson, Celia Slager, Tami Smith, Amy Wissinger, and Connie Vance.

CRAIG ARDERY and Jim Hall demonstrate their artistic abilities.

ADMINISTRATORS

Consultants from Indiana University appeared on campus early in the year to give on-the-job orientation to the schools and community. The study was divided into two phases: phase I—Where We Are, and phase II—Action- Development of programs.

Mr. Floyd Ballinger was appointed acting principal for the year by the board of education. He brought planned programs and order to the school's atmosphere and improved communications between the students, faculty, and community.

The faculty was called together earlier than in past years—August 29, and school opened the day after Labor Day, September 2. Three members returned with Masters Degrees: Mr. Richard Kern, Mr. Daniel Rasor, and Miss Barbara Wilson.

American Education week was celebrated October 27—31, with the Oakwood Teachers Association encouraging the community to visit its schools. 122 visited the high school.

A Task Force committee was appointed with Mr. Ballinger as chairman which worked on a faculty handbook, field trip procedures, study halls, semester and final exams, and the student lounge.

In November Mr. Robert Beck, Mr. Robert Beerbower, and Mrs. Paul Granzow were elected to the board of education.

Adjusted curriculum classes were dropped from the schedule and replaced with a tutorial program.

Mr. Robert Anderson was appointed to serve as the director of student activities.

The staff enjoyed several parties during the year and the athletically inclined met to play volleyball, basketball, etc. in the gym during the winter months.

Every seven years the school is evaluated by the North Central Committee. Plans for this evaluation were developed early this spring.

Coordinated curriculum planning from kindergarten through twelfth grade in all subject areas was given intensive study. Secondary and elementary teachers were represented in planning for curriculum at all grade levels.

The faculty chartered a bus to Cincinnati to see Pearl Bailey in Hello Dolly.

Early in 1970, after four years at Oakwood, Dr. Andrew Tobasco and Mr. Joseph Suter submitted their resignations. Mr. Suter plans to return to college to work on his masters degree.

This year the Oakwood Teachers Association, under the guidance of Mr. James Romick, completed the first phase of a three part negotiation with the administration. The OTA also worked on several projects, which included a grievance procedure for teachers, salary negotiations, and changes in Blue Cross and Blue Sheild benefits.

WHERE THE ACTION IS

Student Lounge Has Become Reality

In October, the Kettering-Oakwood Times printed an article stating there was no written dress code at Oakwood High School. A week later, the code was challenged by fifteen girls who appeared in school wearing slacks. They were promptly sent home to change clothes, and this event sent the Student Council into action.

For the first time, the Council became the voice of the students. It organized discussions for each class to present its opinions on the code. It presented five issues, took votes from all students, got the opinions of parents and teachers, presented all their findings to the School Board, and after a few months the board okayed the proposed code.

Besides this action the Council also sponsored student exchanges with Centerville, discussed student drinking with parents, sponsored the Homecoming Dance, and opened a Student Lounge. The Council of 1969 and 1970 was truly the student's council.

JCOWA Members Learn of Others

Oakwood's chapter of the Junior Council on World Affairs began the year with recruiting of members from the freshman through senior classes and the election of officers. With this out of the way, JCOWA began one of its most prosperous and rewarding years.

A group of about thirty students was selected to represent Oakwood at the High School Institute at the University of Dayton in December. Thirty attended the meeting with JCOWA members from schools of the Dayton area to discuss foreign policy.

A highlight of every JCOWA year is the MGA, or Model

General Assembly, In January of 1970 at Julianne High School. The MGA gave students from Oakwood and other Dayton schools the opportunity to see the UN in action as they took the place of United Nations members.

In the spring, a selected group of members who received a total of one hundred or more points made the annual JCOWA trip to Washington, D.C.. Points were earned by service in the council. This year the opportunity to make the trip was given to students of all grades instead of just seniors as had been the case in previous years. The trip was the end of a most eventful year for Oakwood's JCOWA.

NHS Plans New York Trip

Service, character, scholarship, and leadership: these are the four characteristics to which potential National Honor Society members must measure. Each year, National Honor Society inducts a percentage of the number of students from each junior and senior class. This year, the new members were inducted in an evening ceremonial service in the Oakwood High library. They were honored also at an induction luncheon held at the home of Lois Bush, a senior member of NHS.

The highlight of the year was a trip to New York City in early June. With the help of their advisor, Mr. Wallman, the members planned their trip so that it would include as many events as they could squeeze in their three days in the city. The trip, with its journeys to the Empire State Building, the U.N., and Radio City Music Hall, was a great way for the seniors to end their years in the National Honor Society.

QUILL and SCROLL Seeks Journalistic Terms

QUILL AND SCROLL member Jeri Jervis presents special awards.

Quill and Scroll, a national journalistic fraternity, works to bind together those students who are interested in journalism. The club is open to those juniors and seniors who are in the upper third of their class and have a background in journalism. At Oakwood, students from the Oak Leaf and Acorn staffs are chosen to be in Quill and Scroll. This year, eleven new members were inducted into the society.

The induction was held in February at a formal dinner. The new members were honored and they received cards and pins. After dinner, plans for the coming months were discussed. The members made plans for speakers that have a background in journalism to come and talk with the members.

This year, Miss Crisman, Quill and Scroll advisor, and the members of Quill and Scroll chose to honor four senior students who have exhibited their skills in journalism. These four were Patty Hockwalt and Katie Cauley from the Oak Leaf staff, and Pepper Hitchcock and Jane Routson from the Acorn staff.

NFL Encourages Good Speaking Habits

The ability to speak publicly and privately is one of the keys to success in anyone's future, and the National Forensic League promotes the learning of this ability. Under the leadership of veteran speech instructor and actor, Mr. Loren Shearer, freshmen through seniors learned this year what goes into the art of speaking and how this art will aid them in their future.

Each member of NFL learned the rules of his trade, whether he was a debater or an extemporaneous speaker. Each member worked hard to prepare his separate speech and performed well in the contests and tournaments throughout the year. The debating teams diligently researched their topics and were able to present both sides of their topic with ease and confidence.

The club sponsored itself through the aid of bake sales in the cafeteria after school which pleased the student body. They were also aided by the Speech Parent's Association which provided adult assistance through the year.

One's way of speaking can be a great asset to life. The National Forensic League encourages the development of good speaking habits and aids students to have better communications with others. The speech tournaments during the year helped the students to develop new friendships with students from other schools. In the process of meeting others, the students were able to learn more about themselves.

Youth Council Plans Open Houses

Many students have enjoyed the products of the hard work and diligence of the Youth Council, though they did not realize it. Few students know that those fun-filled open houses after every home game have been organized by the Youth Council.

The group met every two weeks at the YMCA. Their advisor was Brad Butcher, and without his help many times, the Council would have been lost.

There is much planning and care put into each Open House. Some of the efforts of the Youth Council were denied because of parental disagreement with their plans. The Council did plan many event filled nights. The process of getting a live band was left up mainly to the different members. These were usually Nancy Martin, Steve Frame, and Jane Beck. The bands they got to play at each event had a wild assortment of names; The Ostrich, Hope The Livin' End, and The Chapter Four.

Two of the Council members were elected to the Youth Commission. These members, Steve Frame and Barb Price, served with the adults at the meetings as a contact to the younger generation. They stated their ideas and feelings on how the Oakwood students would react to the adults' ideas on youth and their activities.

The Youth Council has had a very successful year in planning the non-school activities.

Many students view the yearbook, but few realize the planning and care in the creation of it. Work begins in the summer and continues throughout the year to April 1 when the last deadline must be met.

Each member is assigned his job in the spring. The dummy is drawn, photographs must be taken, identifications made and a copy must be written.

Three deadlines are met throughout the year. Because of Miss Crisman's absence the first six weeks of school, Mrs. Ann Buck performed the duty of getting early pictures taken. Editors Jeri Jervis and Joan Sealy helped the staff plan each section of the book.

The final deadline brings a satisfied smile to the staff and the hope that they have all students recorded in pictures and words and have shown the history of the year.

Oak Leaf Issued First Week of School

CO-EDITORS PATTY Hochwalt and Katie Cauley work out plans for another Oak Leaf article.

For the first time in its history, the Oak Leaf was published the first week of the school year. This two page paper gave the students a preview of the newspaper and encouraged buying subscriptions.

Oak Leaf attempted to discuss the problems of the Oakwood community. The staff featured articles on student drinking and drugs to inform the students of the danger in both habits.

The letters to the editors section gave the students an opportunity to voice their feelings about school and school policy. The paper supported the Student Council's leadership in student activities. The Oak Leaf sought to involve itself in those matters which were of the most interest to the student body.

The staff had two former reporters-Katie Cauley and Patty Hochwalt. Both girls had experience in publishing a paper. Katie was a reporter and business manager, and Patty was a feature writer. Patty was also the winner of the National Dairy Council award last spring. Together with advisor Miss Crisman, they trained their rookie staff into an organized journalism staff. The staff learned the processes of interviewing, writing copy, and meeting deadlines. The staff met the challenges put to them.

Junior Jack Has A New Advisor

With the organization of the Junior Jack, students in Junior High learn the ins and outs of publishing a newspaper. Organized four years ago, the paper gives the younger reporters a chance to develop their literary talents and later, to serve on the Oak Leaf or Acorn staffs.

Entering the world of high school is exciting and fun and confusing. Junior High students can often find themselves involved in a world which is almost totally concerned with the older students. But with the help of their teachers and advisors, they develop a world of their own, with their own sports, clubs, assemblies, and paper.

The Junior Jack was advised this year by Mr. Holland. Though he was a newcomer, he organized his staff of seventh and eighth grade students early in the year. With his instruction, the papers were soon rolling off the presses. Each of the staff members was assigned his or her certain job. Junior High sports, both boys' and girls', were covered. Matters of school concern were discussed. The highlights of the paper was the "Dear Jack" and "Dear Jill" columns. In these columns, practical advice was given to concerned students about matters concerning school, home, or love. Students were encouraged to express their creative talents in art and poetry.

Besides being interesting and fun, the work on the Junior Jack helped the staff members learn to create and develop their own ideas, about themselves, their school, their friends. And most of all, the Junior Jack helped its readers to learn and to know their school by involving them.

MR. HOLLAND, staff advisor, advises his assistant editor on the ways of laying out another edition of the Junior Jack.

FAS Enjoys Culture

Many seniors, wishing to increase the cultural range of their extra-curricular activities, joined the Fine Arts Society. This group, created and advised by Senior English teacher, Mr. Price, is formed to expose the members to a variety of new and different cultural events.

The first trip for the group was to see The Book of Job performed at Westminster Church. Members were amazed to see the stain glass effect the players used in their make-up. A trip to Antioch gave them Ulysses in Nightgown. Probably the best loved play was You're a Good Man Charlie Brown at the Victory Theater. Based on the comic strip, Peanuts, the play created a live picture of the lives of the different characters. Another highlight was the trip to Cincinnati to see Pearl Bailey in her performance of Hello Dolly.

The group also attended three musical events. They traveled to Memorial Hall to hear the Prague Symphony. Later, they visited the Cincinnati Music Hall to hear the Creation Symphony. Another experience was also at Westminster Church, when they heard a rendition of Handel's Messiah before the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Price has also invited members of the Senior Class to go with him on his literary tour of Great Britain. The group would visit such cities as Dublin, Killarney, Loch Ness, Canterbury, and London, viewing the cities where many of our cultural events were started.

Candles Make Money for Artists

Much of the student talent around Oakwood lies in the field of art. With the aid of Mr. Carmichael and Miss Montgomery, art students at Oakwood are encouraged to develop their talents. The student organization created to aid the development of each individual's art talents is the Pen and Brush Club.

One of their first projects was the promotion of funds which they accomplished by making and selling candles. Many of the members gave time to help make the candles. They worked hard, melting, coloring, and pouring the wax, until they had produced over one hundred candles which they sold.

The club made use of these funds on special field trips, for equipment for individual art classes, to promote the 4-Arts exhibit, where many students could display, and even attempt to sell their work.

Thespians Plan Musical

LAUGH-IN'S DIRTY Old man (Mr. Suter) pays a visit to the old spinster (Mrs. Hoertt) in last spring's Pedagogue Playhouse, sponsored by the Thespians.

Drama, music, literature, and the arts are the interest requirements needed for membership in the National Thespian Society. The group has been active now for two years and has made many contributions to development of the arts at Oakwood.

With the aid of their advisor, Mr. Joseph Suter, the members of the Thespian Society elected officers. Tom Coyne, an art major and dramatist, was elected president. The group met at least once a month in the library and discussed art, ancient and modern; literature, old and contemporary; music, opera and rock.

Each member selected his own areas of interest and was allowed to report on a facet of this area. Mr. Carmichael gave a special talk of types of art. Many members reported on contemporary movies they had recently viewed such as Easy Rider and Last Summer, two movies that gave a view of the young adult world.

Perhaps the greatest achievement of the Thespians was their aid in planning and presenting Oakwood's first musical. The new space and equipment on the stage made possible the musical. The musical chosen for production was Auntie Mame. Under the direction of Mr. Unger and Mr. Suter and with the musical talents of Mr. Walker's band, the musical proved to be successful.

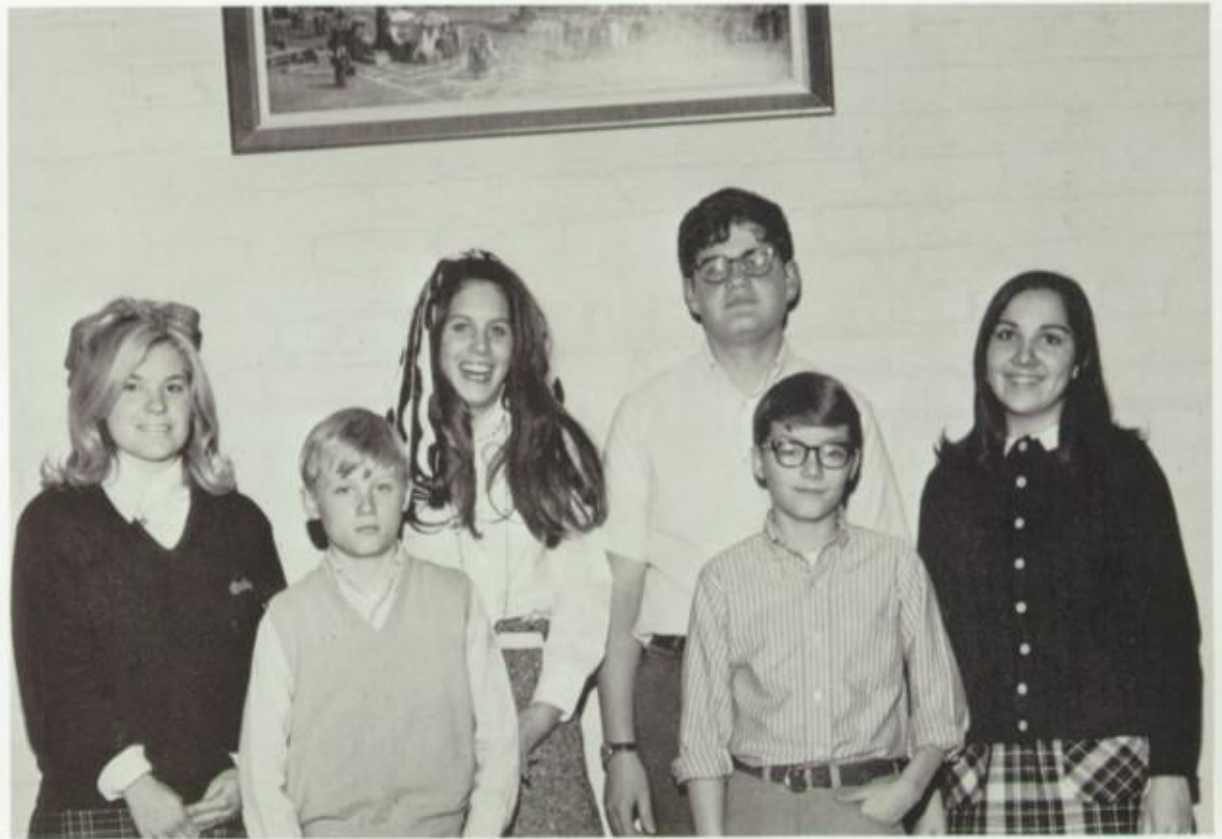

Students Speak Many Languages

Learning the language and customs of Ancient Rome is often fun and exciting. To encourage interest in Latin, Mrs. Sipe organized a branch of the national Latin Clubs and her students enthusiastically joined.

The first meeting of the club was a celebration of Virgil's birthday. The students provided the cakes and refreshments, and Mrs. Sipe provided the Latin words to "Happy Birthday." In their later meetings, the club elected officers and planned other meetings.

An honorary club formed by Mrs. Sipe is the Summa Club. The word summa means greatest in Latin, and this is a very appropriate name for the club. There is only one requirement to belong to this club, and that is a one hundred percent on a Latin test. Mrs. Sipe feels that her students have the ability to make a one hundred and that this club encourages them to try. She feels this club exemplifies the fact that some of her students have complete control of the Latin language.

The German culture has affected our culture in many ways. From sauerkraut to the Christmas tree, we have shown signs of the influence of Germany. This year, the German Club at Oakwood sought to explore these customs.

Open to all interested students enrolled in the German courses, the club exposed the members to the ways of Germany. Headed by Mr. Bair, their advisor and Cheryl Rodebush, president, the Club interested many in the manners of German life.

Headed by an enthusiastic French teacher, Mr. Anderson, the French Club has gained much insight into the culture of France. The club was open to French students from the tenth through twelfth grades.

Meeting every two weeks at the home of one of the members, the group learned much about French culture. The meetings consisted of presentations from different sources on the culture of France. The group sampled French cooking and viewed slides of France and its different points of interest.

Seniors Dramatize The Great Sebastians

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Unger, the Senior Class of Oakwood High School presented the Great Sebastians, a story of a vaudeville mind reading team caught in Communist Czechoslovakia. The leads were played by Tom Coyne, who portrayed the Great Sebastian and Suzan Penny, who played his wife Essie. General Otokar Zandek was played by Ray Carmichael. The other characters in the play were played by experienced and inexperienced seniors, all of whom helped to make it a success.

The play is made not only by the actors, but also by those who work behind the scenes. Student Director Barb Brundige was a great help to Mr. Unger and the rest of the crew. The realistic setting were created by Tom Higgins who supplied the furniture and prop manager Patty Roberts.

Costumes for the play had to be of the late '40's and the soldiers dressed in the style of Communist guards. Nancy Henkel, wardrobe mistress, aided each of the characters in selecting his costumes.

Because the high school auditorium was under construction, the play was performed in the gym at Smith School on Shafor Boulevard. Everyone joined in the play's production and made the play a real success.

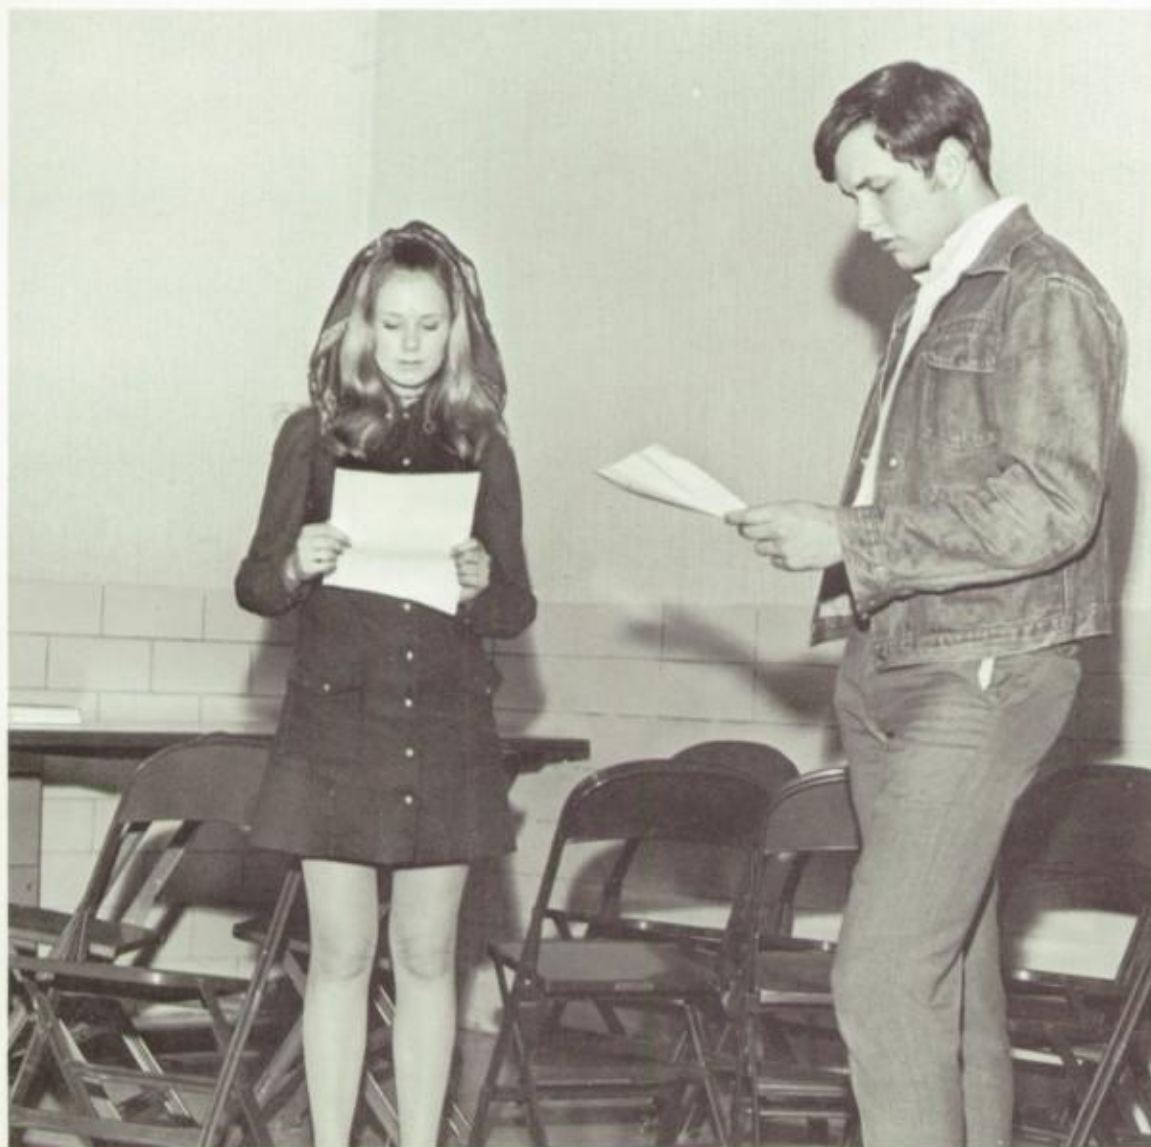

THE GREAT Sebastians complete their wondrous mind reading act. The parts of Rudi Sebastian and his wife Essie are played by Seniors Tom Coyne and Suzan Penny.

DURING THE General's party, the cast registers mixed emotions at the news of the death of Jan Masyrk, the Czechoslovakian hero.

Oakwood Shows Its Dramatic Talents

For the first time in the history of the school, a Broadway musical, Mame, was selected and performed in May. The play was directed by Mr. Joseph Suter and Mr. Richard Unger. The chorus and songs were arranged by Mr. Uhl and the orchestra was directed by Mr. Walker.

The lead role of Mame was portrayed by Judy Buck, a junior at Oakwood. Other cast members consisted of students from the freshman through senior classes and each one demonstrated his talents in the performances. Presented in the newly remodeled auditorium, Mame was a great success and led the way for future musical performances.

This year, the Oakwood drama class presented a version of Edgar Lee Masters' Spoon River Anthology. The play is concerned with the lives of the men and women of Spoon River, who relate their experiences in life from their graves. The play was directed by Mr. Unger and presented in March.

The characters were portrayed by Polly Alexander, Ron Baird, Joyce Beerbower, Lucy Benner, Jeff Brown, Cahn Clarkson, Molly Coffey, Karen Coy, Rick Framme, Kathy Grant, Jack Harris, John Heck, Barb Holmes, Carol Keyes, Morgan MacDonald, Pat MacCauley, Greg Millat, Mary Ann Powell, Jessica Robbins, Tawny Smith, and Scott Stansfield.

OAKWOOD'S SOCIAL SEASON INCLUDES

Homecoming 1969 Kathy Reigns As Queen

Homecoming '69 was made perfect by a cool, clear night, a beautiful queen, and a winning score. On Friday, October 2, Senior Kathy Barksdale was crowned Homecoming Queen. The coronation took place during the halftime entertainment at the Oakwood - Brookville game which Oakwood won by the slight margin of 3 -0.

The flowers were presented by senior cheerleaders Mary Maher and Barb Brundige. The male congratulators were Brent Lawson and Rick Boyer, co-captains of the Oakwood team.

The following night, the Homecoming Dance was sponsored by the Student Council. The band was the Living End and they played for a record crowd of one-hundred-fifty students.

Halfway through the dance, the royal court was introduced and the band played a special song in recognition of Queen Kathy and attendants Cindy, Patty, Lois, and Nancy.

1969's Homecoming was truly a success and a night to remember.

Junior Tri-Hi-Y Sponsors Turn-A-Bout

Oakwood girls had their chance to ask out the boy of their dreams when the Junior girls' Tri Hi Y presented their turnabout dance. Appropriately titled The Day Before George Washington's Birthday Tournabout, the dance proved exciting for all.

The Junior girls made cookies and provided refreshments. They decorated the YMCA with balloons, and streamers. Then, through the noon hours, they sold tickets and completed the final arrangements for the night.

The music for the dance was provided by that fabulous Dayton band, The Stumps.

Christmas Is Celebrated In Camelot

Amidst ancient banners, knights and their ladies, and a twenty foot Christmas tree decorated with white doves and red bows, everyone enjoyed the Senior prom, Christmas in Camelot. Working diligently under co-chairman Judy Tye and Frank Chandler, the seniors presented one of the best proms in years.

The girl's gym was transformed into King Arthur's castle, and the couples danced in this ancient castle, serenaded by Jimmy May and his Orchestra. Halfway through the evening, the senior prom court was introduced and Molly Hageman and Brent Lawson were named the queen and king of Camelot. A group of senior boys and girls presented a medieval dance and sang songs to fit the medieval theme and entertain the crowd.

This first prom of the year opened its doors to a record breaking crowd. A large number of sophomores attended, this being their first prom. An even larger number of seniors attended, thanks to the aid of Mr. Price. All of these factors—the decorations, band, entertainment, and the crowd—helped to make the Senior's last prom a success.

Sophomore Prom Came In Spring

The sophomore prom proves to many just how closely a class can work together to reach a common goal. This year, the whole sophomore class, organized again under Mr. Andrews, presented a night to remember with the first prom, titled Bourbon Street.

As he always does, Mr. Andrews began to gather his forces for the prom early in the year. He chose his two co-chairmen,

Debby Robinson and Preston Crabill. Then, each member of the class was assigned to a certain committee; bandstand, murals, walls, refreshments, entertainment. The theme being Bourbon Street, the decorations were designed to resemble the original street in New Orleans. All in all, the sophomores were able to create an evening to remember.

The art of learning music is an interesting and rewarding experience. Students at Oakwood, encouraged by Mr. Walker, sought to please students and parents with their musical know-how.

The Oakwood band created many delightful moments this year. In the football season, they appeared regularly during the games at half time. They helped increase spirit and also aided in the development of the Jilletes, Oakwood's first drill team.

After the football season, the band worked on their concerts, preparing for the District and State contests. They also played their annual music concerts here at Oakwood.

Mr. Walker also worked with his music hopefuls, the Junior band, and helped to make the future band.

Vocal Music

Seventh graders through twelfth graders have spent a large portion of this year singing with one another and pleasing many a musical ear. Musical director, Mr. Glenn Uhl, created many wonderful moments for the Oakwood schools and community with his vocal music groups.

The Oakwood High School Choir gave their first program at Smith School auditorium during the annual Christmas Concert. This program consisted of selected Christmas songs and got the audience in the Christmas spirit.

The second program of the vocal department was their Spring Concert in late April. Each of the vocal music groups sang melodies and songs to please the audience.

Early in the year, the Choir and Glee Club selected officers to help Mr. Uhl. The Choir officers selected were Frank Chandler, president; Mark Beardmore, vice president; Nancy Martin, secretary; Cindy Laing, Jane Ryckman, librarians. In the Glee Club, the officers were Mary Ann Powell, president; Tawny Smith, vice president; Jamie Wise, secretary; and Ann Wilson and Leslie Graef, librarians.

AFS Enjoy Get Acquainted Dinner

To be able to adjust as a new student in a new school and community is often hard. But most people do not realize what it would be like to have to adjust to a new school, a new language, and a completely new way of life. In Oakwood, the Foreign Exchange Student Club helps visiting students to adjust to their "home for a year." Under their advisor Mr. Joseph Suter, who spent last summer in Norway, the members of the AFS work together to befriend the foreign exchange students and to make their year a memorable one.

This year, Oakwood hosted three foreign exchange students. The two American Field Service students were Rosario Villamil from Bolivia and Mikio Fujita from Japan. The third student, Kare Ojaniemi, is an ICYE student from Finland. Members of the Foreign Exchange Student Club began the year with an introduction party where they were introduced to the exchange students from Oakwood and the surrounding schools. While the members taught them American ways, the exchange students were busy teaching the others the ways of their countries. New friendships blossomed and everyone moved a step closer to understanding his fellow man.

TOME COYNE and Tom Hack show their tennis genius.

"It might be possible that we could lose one match this year." Mr. Anderson, the tennis advisor, said this when being interviewed by the Oak Leaf staff. It is true that the Oakwood tennis team lost only one match last year. This year the team members are confident that they will end the season with an undefeated record.

Seth Taylor finished last year with only one lose, so he should prove to be one of the best players this year. Tom Rudwall will also be right up there in competition. The new members are Tom Hochwalt, John Lewis, and Steve Kelch, all sophomores. The juniors on the team are Jim Nevin, Dave Glossinger, John Harrigan, and Tom Hack. The seniors consist of those experienced players Seth Taylor, Tom Rudwall, Tom Coyne, and Al Vontz.

The team is lucky enough to have the new Rudwall indoor tennis club to practice in during bad weather. This will help the boys practice during rainy days and will not make them "fair weather" tennis players.

Oakwood has always been one of the best teams in tennis in the Dayton area, as shown by the record last year.

Girls Tennis Team Promises Wins

Barb Brundige, Patty Hochwalt, Nancy Connelly, Mary Maher.

Tennis is becoming a popular sport with girls at Oakwood. Mr. Andrews has been coach for the girls for the last two years and sees great promise for this year's group. Tennis had a slight problem with weather because it snowed at the beginning of the season. However, this did not stop the girls from practicing their form and style. The girls set the courts on fire with their great teamwork.

Golfers starts year with a swing

There is some great competition in this year's golf team. Each player is ready to lead the team. This year's turn out is one of the largest in a long time, and Coach Gardner is very pleased with it.

Probably the greatest highlights in the golf season are the league and district meets. The SWBL meet is one of an 18 hole play-off where only the best golfers in the league play. This meet will determine the champion who will play in the district meet. It is an 18 hole playoff and eliminates the boys from the golfers. It also decides who will go to the state meet.

Coach Gardner is very optimistic about this year's team. There are some fine underclassmen coming up who will prove to be competition to the seniors and juniors.

With such a large team, we will have no trouble in the district meet and later in the state meet. Such a team should win several places and bring home many victory trophies.

RICK PACKARD and Steve Herbert watch Joe Lang practice that swing.

SOME MEMBERS of Varsity O are also members of Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

THE OFFICERS of FCA this year are Mark Beardmore, treasurer; Bruce Henry, president; Brian Braley, vice president, and Steve Frame, secretary.

FCA End a fulfilling year

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is based on brotherhood and a better understanding of people around the world through athletics. This group is probably the most active organization in Oakwood.

FCA had a fall conference at Camp Kern where one hundred athletes from the Dayton area met to listen to former UD basketball player, Bobby Joe Hooper.

Bruce Henry, the president, along with officers Mark Beardmore, treasurer; Steve Frame, secretary; and Brian Braley, vice president, encouraged the members to paint a ward of the Dayton State Hospital. Bruce said that this project was to help patients who cannot, in many cases, help themselves. This was just another example of how the Fellowship of Christian Athletes tries to understand different people in our society.

Activities this year included a spring conference at Camp Kern. This project on March 13-14 included only the Oakwood members. Probably the biggest money-making project this year was for the citywide Weekend of Champions where twenty pro athletes spoke to all the area high schools at assemblies.

This year has been a truly rewarding one for the members of FCA with their successful activities. To end a fantastic year, twenty members will attend the national conference of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes in Colorado this summer. These members will be going with their advisor, Coach Lee Matthews.

Varsity O Has An Innovating Year

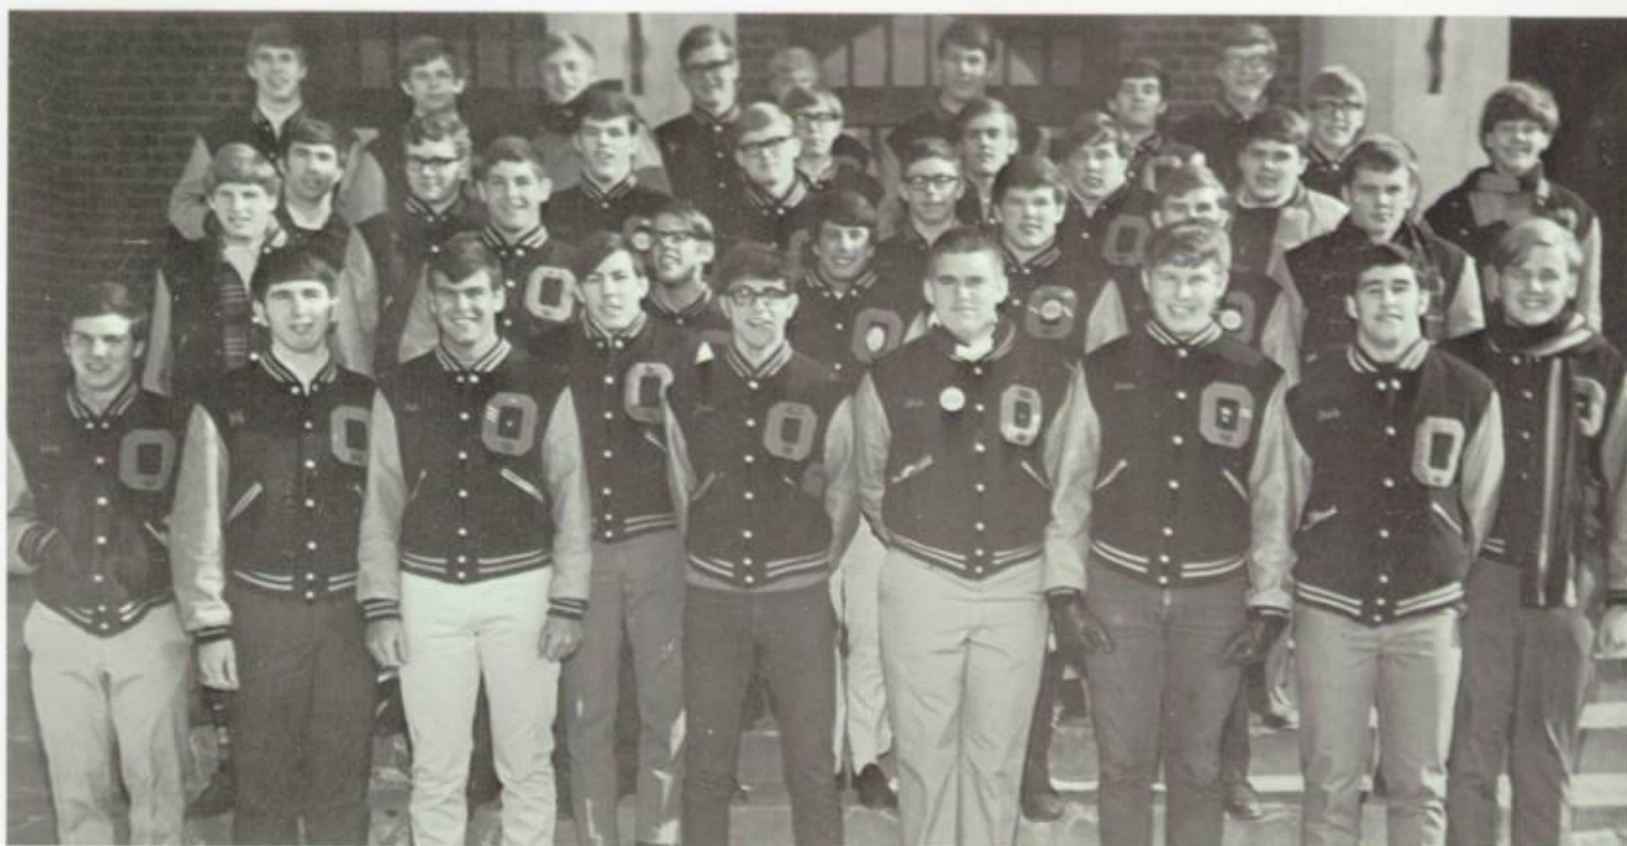

Athletics, fellowship, team work, and helpfulness are the basis for the Varsity O club. The club this year has begun many new projects. Each member of Varsity O has gone to one of the elementary schools during lunch. The member receives a free lunch and then supervises the play ground. This gives each Varsity O member a chance to meet the elementary students and teach them the value of team work and athletics.

The officers this year are Bruce Henry, president; Brian Braley, vice president; Seth Taylor, secretary; and Bill Bergen, treasurer. These officers have started many new money making projects this year. They have had the club sell Varsity O pens and also run the concession stands at the basketball games. With this money, the members plan to go to a Cincinnati Royals game.

This year, the head of Varsity O is Coach Sales. Coach Sales has helped the club bring some new edeas into the organiza-tion. The club now has membership pins to show that they belong to Varsity O. They also have ordered Varsity O shirts for the members. All in all, the club has been very successful this year. Their new money making projects will enable the club to have more activities.

VARSITY O OFFICERS: B. Braley, Vice President; B. Henry, President; B. Bergen Treasurer; Seth Taylor, Secretary.

GAA Sell Sweaters

Selling sweaters was a profit making project. This year navy blue v-neck sweaters were sold in a variety of sizes to anyone who wished to buy one. These sweaters made a hit in the school as shown by many students displaying them.

Every year, the G.A.A. sponsors a ski trip to Bellbrook. This year, was no exception. However it was a slight disappointment. Instead of snowing on the day of the trip, it rained. But half the fun was just getting there in the Oakwood Y bus.

Cross Country Places Sixth in the District

Bruce Henry led the Cross Country team in a record of 2 wins and 1 loss. There were 10 other meets and the team finished respectably in each one. Bruce Henry won 2 meets and Bernard Altick captured one championship.

Bruce Henry, Steve Chase, Bernard Altick, Allan Braley, and Rob Sperry were the principal runners for the team. The best time of the year, 9:49, was turned in by Bruce Henry. A fifth place finish in the league and a sixth place finish in the district capped off the team's running season.

The team was coached by Mr. Howard Carr for the tenth year.

COACH CARR and his two senior boys, Steve Chase and Bruce Henry.

Cindermen Vault To Good Year

The track team could have had a good year or a bad one, depending on how well some of the returnees for the team do. With the graduation of Roger Beardmore, one the the best trackmen that Oakwood had in many years, the team suffered a great loss.

Bob Landis is in the sprints and Bill Parcells is in the 440 yard dash. Both of these men have experience and the capability to become excellent runners in their respective events.

Bernie Altick is going to be one of the best distance men in the area at the end of the season. In the field events Mark Beardmore and John Larkin are the principal participants. Bart Sickinger will participate in the high jump. Steve Walters, who has almost broken the school record many times, will take part in the pole vault.

With a little luck, the team can have an excellent year.

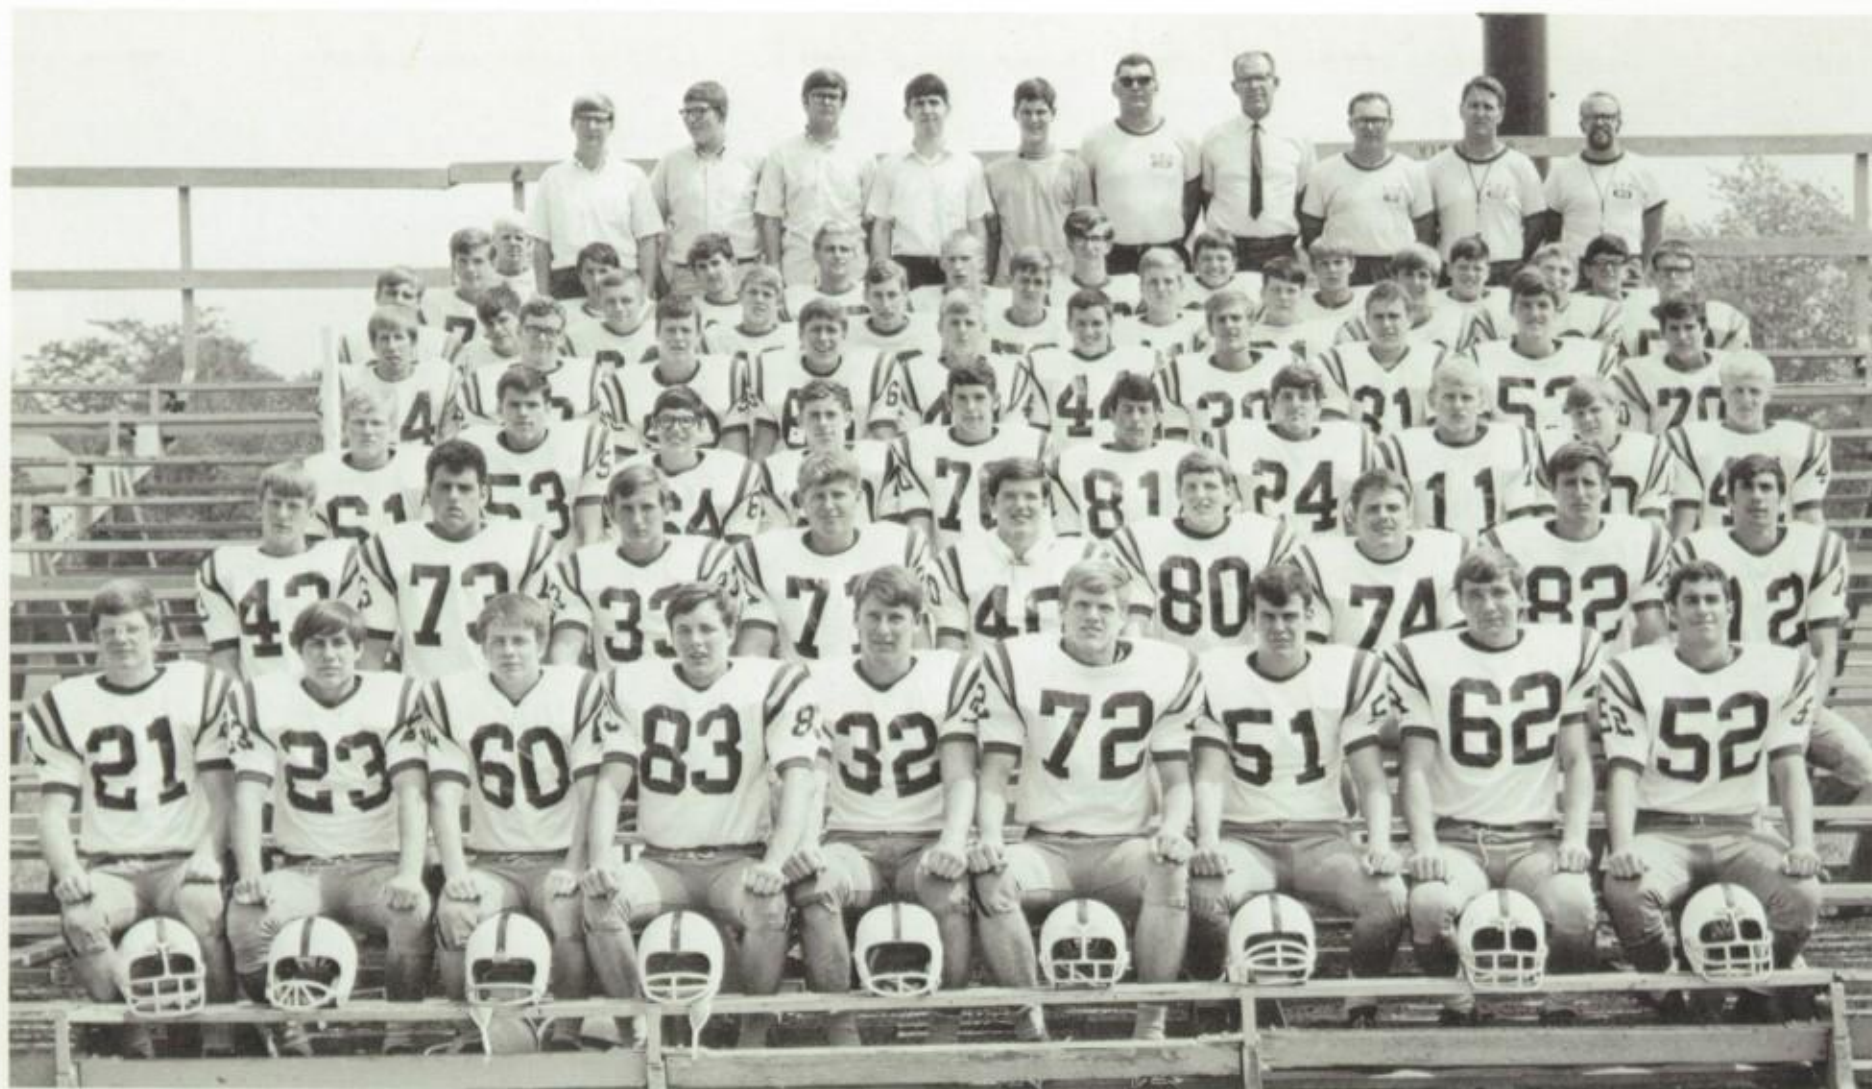

BACK ROW: B. Sickinger, R. Frye, A. Braley, D. Brand, B. Blum, B. Parcells, R. Bergen, R. Sperry, D. Collier, S. Lambert, B. Gray, D. Dennison, D. Ciummo, P. Crabill, M. Schaeffer, Coach Carr. Football Enlightened School Spirit

Victory, that word was fixed in the minds of our Lumberjacks early in the football season. They showed their ability by overthrowing their opponents with a 7-3 record. In the SWBL, the Jacks lost only two games and won seven. This record of the Jacks put them in third place, one that the Jacks have tried to regain for several years.

The impressive record of the season is one that everyone is sure to remember. In all their games, the Jacks upset their opponents by gaining 144 first downs, while their opponents gained only 78. The Jacks have been trying for several years to regain a good place in the ranks of the league. The team this year made a promise to the fans that the Jacks can again be number one.

Our season was truly impressive! Even though many letter winners were seniors, there were sixteen underclassmen who received football letters. The experienced reserve team and returning lettermen should make the Oakwood Lumberjacks lead the league next year. It is very true that our senior players are able to leave Oakwood with a great feeling of accomplishment.

AS THE Lumberjacks line up for a strong defensive play their spirits are high and ready to win.

AS THE game becomes a battle, Coach Sales discusses with Pat Macaulay the next play.

Ninth Grade Shows Great Promise for Next Year

Hard work and team work are the words that were the basis of the ninth grade football team's struggles for victories. The team had many very difficult teams to play. With these teams looking the freshmen in the face, our Jacks made sure that they played as well as they could. The team never let the name of the Jacks down. The team defeated the teams of Tipp City and Northridge with a score of 30-14 and 24-16. There were four teams in the league that defeated the freshmen team. Even with this record, the ninth graders were eager and willing to fight to the end. They played with all their ability and showed their opponents that our freshmen were not afraid to play the game of football. Next year, the ninth graders will be eligible for the varsity team, and with their spirit and will to fight, these young players will be an asset to the varsity.

AS THE ninth graders line up for another play, their determination and will to win is displayed in holding their opponents back.

Winning was the thrill that the eight graders knew this year. The eight grade football team left the 1969 season with a 6-0 record. Even with the difficulties of scheduling the games, the Jacks showed great stamina and brought nothing but victories home with them. The eighth graders even had to play one game on the practice field while the Jills defeated another hockey team.

The star player was Tom Jervis who scored 78 out of 113 points gained in this victorious year. The eighth graders were only scored on twice. Unity and teamwork were two elements in their formula for victory. In two years, this team will be on the varsity team and will push it to the number one position.

The seventh graders showed great teamwork and had a 2-2 season. Even though they were cut short with only four games, the team worked as hard as they could in trying to defeat all their opponents. Since all the members were new to our high school, the team had to become acquainted with our system. The seventh graders showed our fans that being new to a school doesn't mean they can't play football. Coach Reichert helped these newcomers to Oakwood High School to play and win the game of football.

Under the leadership of a new coach, Mr. Varner, the wrestling team compiled a respectable dual meet record of 4 wins, 4 losses, and 2 ties. Although they finished last in the league, they placed two wrestlers, Dave Rudwall and Rich Gowdy, in the semi-finals of the district. Gowdy finished third and Rudwall fourth in the district. With only two senior wrestlers, Craig Owen and Tom Cato leaving, the most-valuable wrestler Rich Gowdy coming back, it looks very good for next year's team.

Hockey Jills Have Rough Season

FAIRMONT WEST'S varsity forward line unsuccessfully attempts to score a goal against Oakwood.

THE JILL'S fight for another victory.

The only loss suffered by the 1969 hockey Jills was against an old foe, Fairmont East. Long hours of practice soon remedied this loss. There were many experienced players this year who have been with the Jills before. There were many new members who learned what a demanding coach Miss Kathy Koogler really was.

The leading scorers for the Varsity were Barb Price, Barb Brundige, and Nancy Connelly. The top scorers for the reserves were Cindy Brown, Ann Wagner, and Janna Jervis.

Many of the new team members came from the sophomore and junior classes. They greatly helped the team and were very willing to learn the new techniques which Miss Koogler learned at hockey camp during the summer.

The creation of the ninth grade hockey Jills was a new challenge to Oakwood. With Miss Gould as coach, it is speculated that these girls will be excellent Varsity and reserve material in future years. Miss Gould and Miss Koogler are working together and sharing ideas to create some great hockey players.

An event which created interest in hockey was the 1969 Hockey Clinic. One of the main attractions was Miss Pat Clark from South Africa. She was in the United States learning new hockey methods which she taught our girls as well as others in the area. The enthusiasm for this event was shown by a good audience and challenging plays between teams.

Basketball Team Has A Poor Season

Tom Rudwall

Brent Lawson

Rick Boyer

Bruce Henry

This year's team was expected to be one of the best in several years, but the injury of junior Jeff Requarth hurt those dreams considerably, and the basketball team had to settle for a dismal 4-14 record. The injury to Requarth was a knee injury and he wasn't to play for the entire year, but with his enthusiasm and desire, he was back on the team by the end of the season and playing well enough to earn a starting position in one of the last games.

The team got off to a slow start by losing five games in a row until Coach Gardner installed a fast-break offense. The results were immediately evident when we soundly trounced a highly-rated West Milton team by a score of 70-52.

The rest of the year the team not as fortunate in scoring, but there was some excellent basketball played by our boys. They were led by All-Area Honorable Mention Bob Coughlin, who averaged approximately 16 points a game, and by the leading rebounder, Rick Boyer. Coughlin, Boyer, and Bruce Henry made the Kettering-Oakwood Times team, with Coughlin getting a second team berth, and Boyer and Henry getting honorable mention. Although the regular season was disappointing, when tournament time came around the team reversed its bad luck.

In the tournament the lumberjacks got to the quarter-finals on the hot-shooting of Bruce Henry and the rest of the team. Then they met Beavercreek and almost upset them, but lost a heartbreaker. This tournament play, along with the return of Jeff Requarth, seems to indicate a good season next year.

Ninth Grade Team Ties Record

The freshmen basketball players ended their junior high careers with an even 6-6 record. Coached by Mr. Rasor, the team got off to a respectable start, faltered slightly in mid-season, then ended up by finishing second in the Wayne tournament. The freshmen were led by Bill Rochfort and potential varsity man Jay Roudebush. Roudebush was the leading rebounder also. Along with Houk Hitchcock, Rouchfort and Roudebush formed the nucleus of this year's freshmen and next year's reserves.

A basketball game played by Reserve Jills is something to see. Especially this season's team. Their record is one of an undefeated team and they are very proud of it. Continuous drilling by Miss Koogler, plus the extra time which many of the girls used to improve their skills, paid off. Continuous soaring of school spirit towards the team helped out also.

RESERVES USE CONSTANT practice as a guide. They prepare for another demanding game.

GETTING READY for another shot and rebound.

Girls Basketball

With a 7-0 record, the Varsity Jills and coach Koogler have a great deal to be proud of. This record was continued from last year's season. Most of the Varsity consisted of pros such as Nancy Davis, Barb Brundige, and Sandy Tinnerman. Each of the girls had a skill of her own. The highlights of all the games started when the girls stepped onto the court with their hilarious antics which kept everyone alert.

Baseball

Baseball 1970 promised to be an exciting spring for the Jack diamond men. With several returning lettermen off of a squad that started from 6 to 8 sophomores last year made it a big year. The pitching was strong with Bud Henry, Randy Ballard, Steve Robertson returning and newcomer Mark Wells to bolster the staff. The infield and outfield was strong defensively, with returnees Jeff Davis, Doug Stansfield, Dave Finley, and Doug Henness.

The success of this season hung on how well the Jack batsmen hit the ball. As these skills developed, baseball fans were treated to a successful baseball season.

THE TEAM warms up for practice by doing jumping-jacks.

Girls Track Team Is A New Sport

A very recent addition to girls interscholastic sports is the formation of a track team. Miss Koogler has noticed great talent in the field of track and decided that the girls should display their talents openly. Surprisingly enough, a large amount of girls tried out for the track team with great enthusiasm. The track team includes such activities as the broad jump, high jump, and track. Even though this sport is just getting started its popularity is surprisingly high. Support for the program is increasing rapidly and by next year the track team will be a well known phenomena for the girls.

Softball Team Wins Three, Loses Two

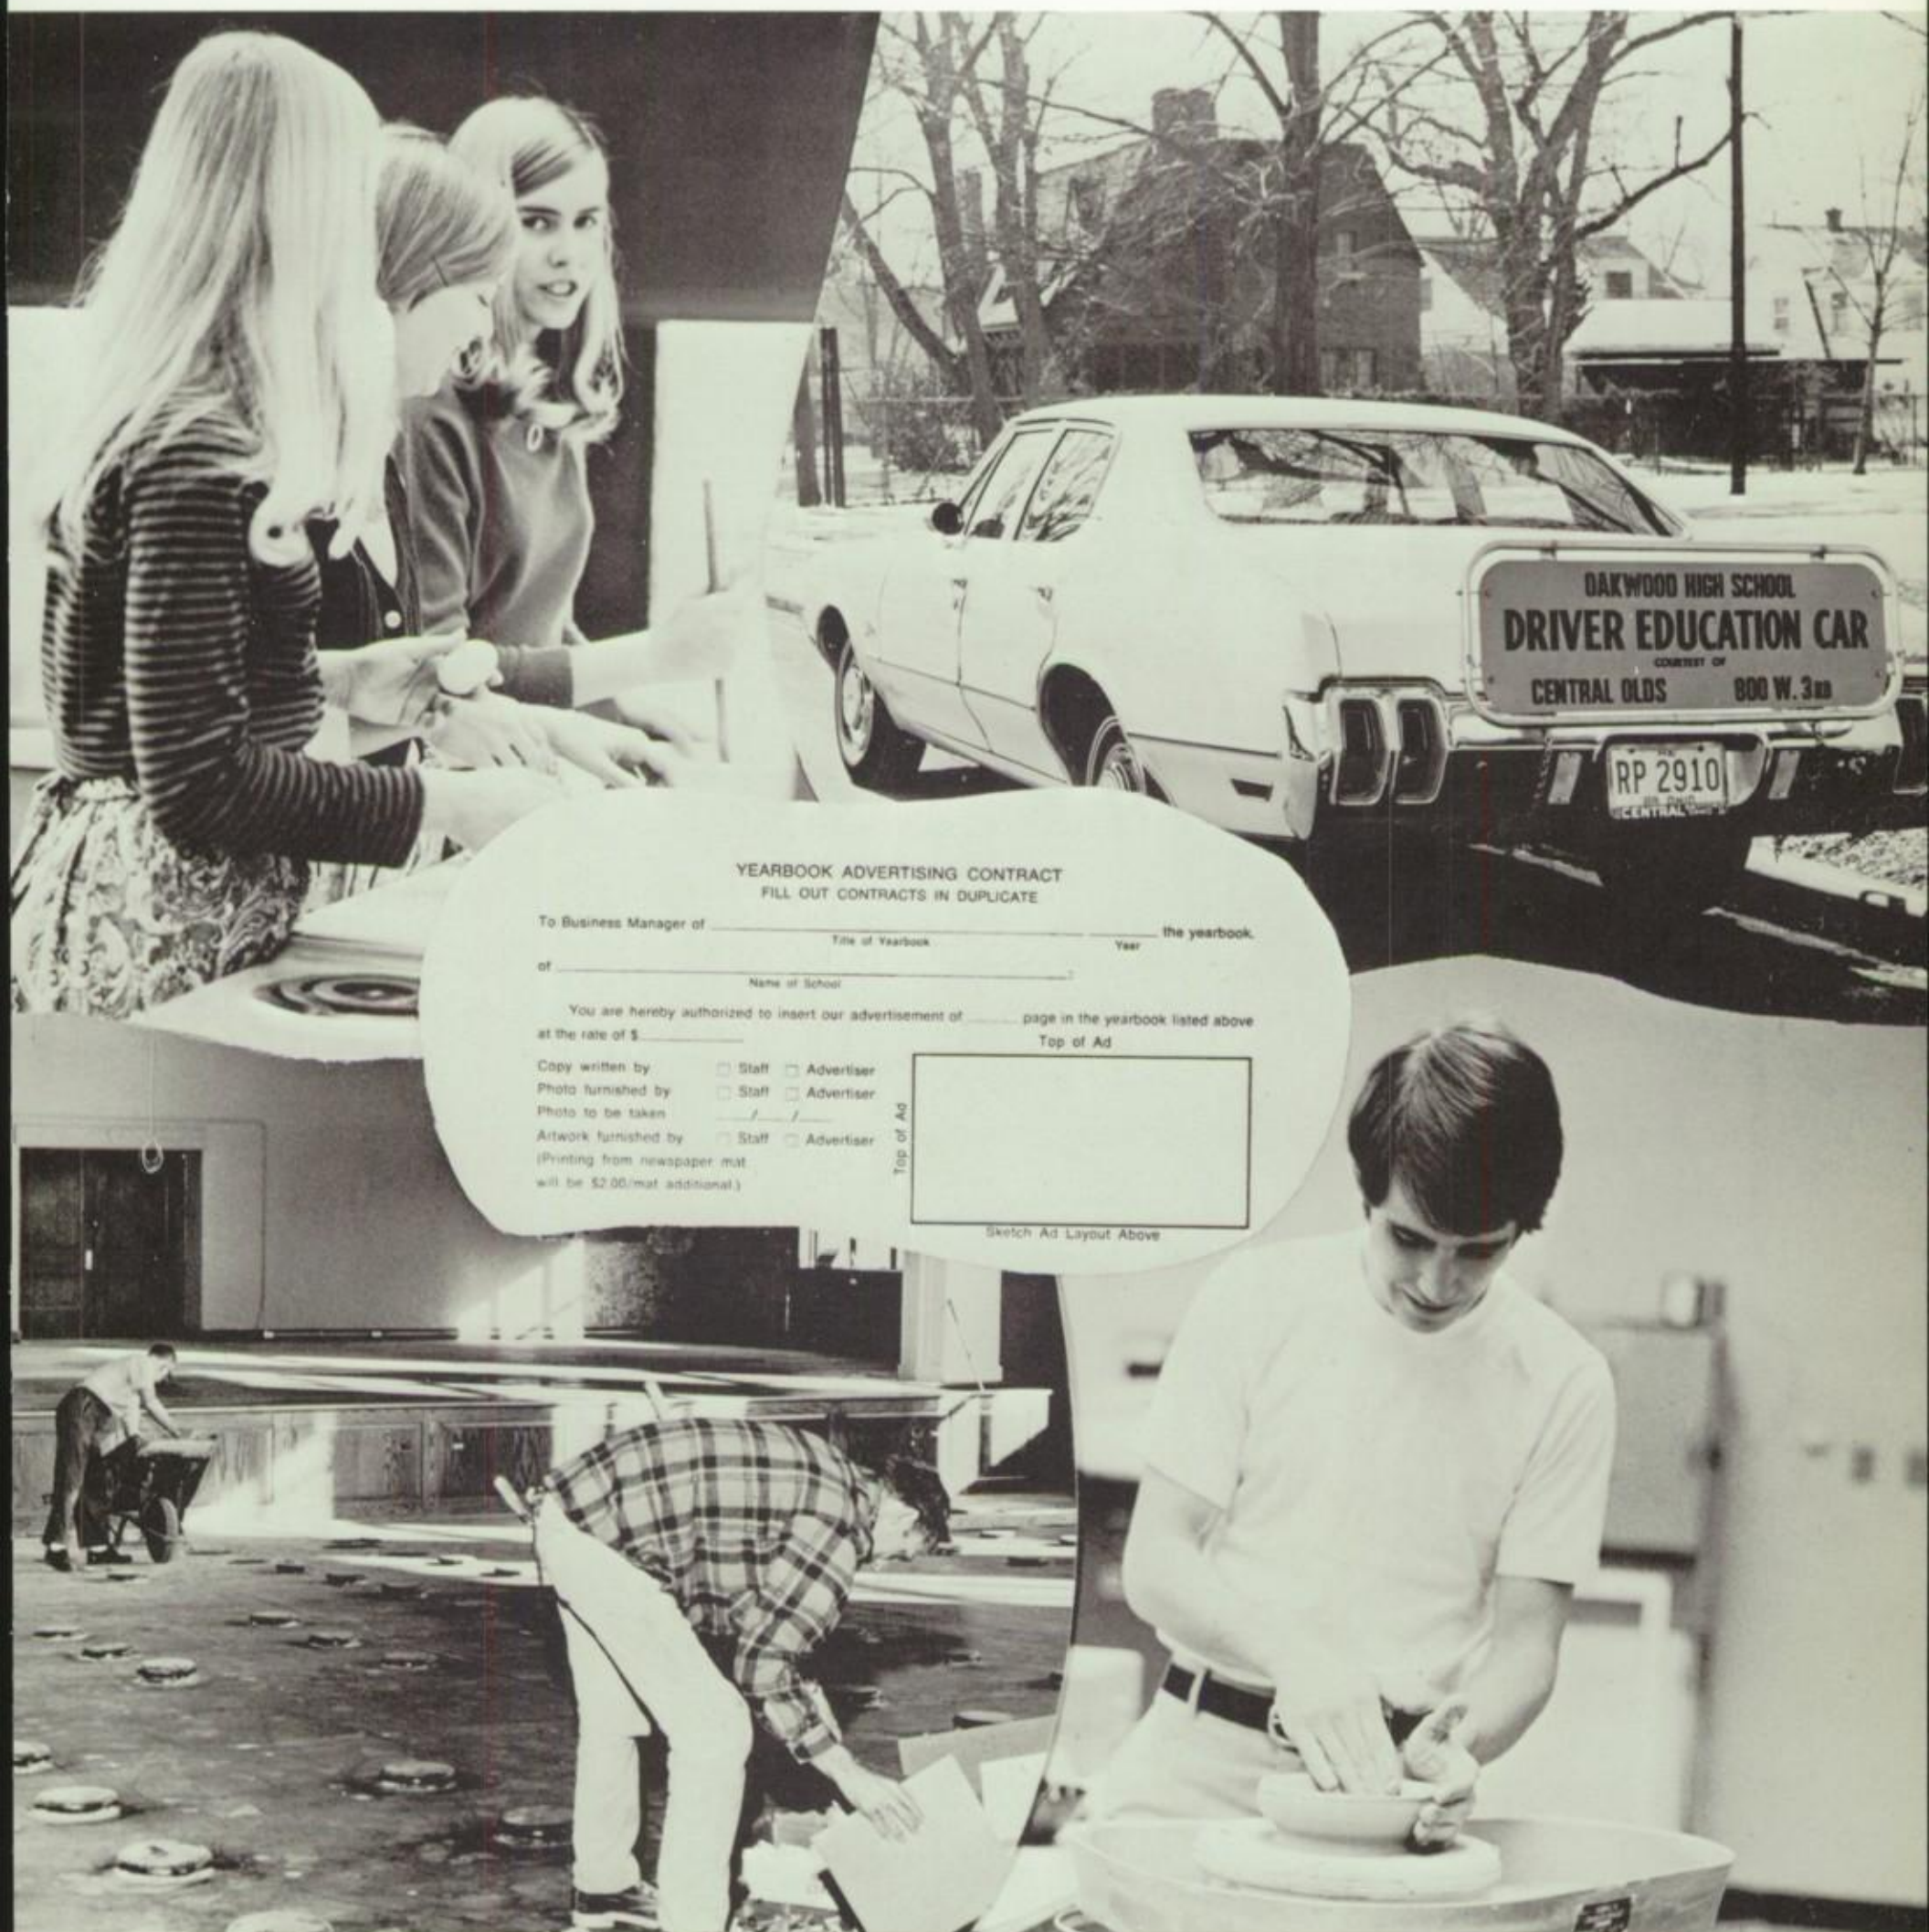

Oakwood's softball team had a slow start this year. Try-outs began after spring vacation and the first game of the season soon followed. The team was not as large as Coach Gould would have liked but it was very enthusiastic during the games.

The season record stood at 3 wins and 2 losses. The record would have been better except that there were several cancellations due to weather. Every one of the girls was valuable as an individual yet special mention should be made of Lissa Priest and Belinda Powell who worked as a pitcher-catcher combination. They both worked hard along with the other girls to make this season a success.
